

FLOOR PLAN — REV A

FIRST SCALED PASS

Rebuilt from the stage-1 markup. Scale anchored on the garage ($12 \times 24 = 288$ sf, Jeff's own figure 2026-09-01); every other room sized so the house totals the recorded 1,400 sq ft. Drawn at 11 px per foot.

ANCHORED ON THE 12×24 GARAGE

WHAT CHANGED FROM THE AUG DRAFT

- GARAGE moved to the WEST side and is attached. The old draft had it detached bottom-right — wrong.
- That old bottom-right “garage” box is the ENTRANCE, and it is where the RE200 sits.
- GUEST BEDROOM → MASTER BED · OFFICE → MASTER BATH · BATHROOM → LAUNDRY
- Added GUEST BED, GUEST BATH, OFFICE, FRONT PORCH, BACK DECK
- A/C and B-hyve placed outside the east wall, per your note

TOTALS

- House $44 \times 32 = 1,408$ sf — within 8 sf of the recorded 1,400
- Garage $12 \times 24 = 288$ sf — your figure, used as the ruler
- Porch and deck sit outside the envelope, not counted

What I GUESSED — correct these.

Only the garage is a real measurement. Every other size is me dividing 1,400 sf across your layout, so the adjacency is yours and the dimensions are mine:

- The 44×32 envelope — is the house wider, or deeper?
- Living vs kitchen split — I gave living 18×11 , kitchen 20×11

- Does ENTRANCE really run the full east side, or is it a small foyer?
- ● Where is the 3rd bedroom? The record says 3 bed / 2 bath and I only have master + guest. Is the room I drew as OFFICE actually the 3rd bedroom?

The one thing I could not read: the old BEDROOM box had "Front Porch / Covered" written across it. I read that as the porch being outside the wall with the foyer behind it. If that box really is a bedroom with the porch beyond, it becomes the 3rd bedroom.

Next: once the shell is right, stage 2 is the 38-number device key.
